

Doctor Vlasta Placha has been working as a General practitioner for almost 24 years. She graduated from Medical Faculty of Masaryk University in Brno. Her first work was an occupational physician in a large factory in Brno. Later she worked as a general practitioner in several medical offices in Brno. She worked also as an emergency care doctor, concurrently with her full-time job. In 2006 she lived in London and was employed in medical environment. Her experience with work abroad she reinforced in 2015 as a RMO in Rehabilitation center in Malta. She worked as a General practitioner and specialist supervisor and a Head doctor at Moje Ambulance s.r.o. in Brno for 7 years. Since 2016 she has been living and working as a General practitioner in Prague.

Doctor Placha took place in a lot of seminars and courses in Brno, Prague, London and Malta. In 2015 she attended BCE seminar: medical care and service for foreigners living in Brno as a speaker and representative of General practitioners.

Besides English she speaks fluently Russian language. This advantage she uses intensively in her practice.

At last: she has several personal interests: painting pictures, writing poems and stories and admiring music.